Victorian crime incident reports

We are also the trusted provider of Victorian crime incident reports.

These reports contain extensive information on details relating to a crime, including: incident, victims, offender, property, summary, modus operandi, stolen motor vehicle, recovered motor vehicle, and person to be notified.

Access to Victorian crime incident reports can be made available to insurance companies, loss assessors and solicitors.

Queensland traffic incident reports

We are the trusted provider of Queensland traffic incident reports, sourced directly from the Queensland Police Service.

These reports contain (where possible) detailed information pertaining to a traffic incident, including the occurrence, witnesses, incident scene and event, crash description, unit details, towed vehicles, damaged property, victims and versions.

Our online document ordering system can also provide additional documents associated with an incident, such as the initial Police Report (PT51), which may include a diagram/sketch drawn by an attending officer.

Access to Queensland traffic incident reports and additional documents can be made available to insurance companies, legal firms, loss assessors and mercantile agents.

Queensland property crime reports

We are also the trusted provider of Queensland property crime reports, sourced directly from the Queensland Police Service (QPS).

These reports contain detailed information on crimes against property, including: complainant(s), modus operandi, property items and summary.

We provide access to register and remove a subrogation interest or right online, free of charge.

Registering a subrogation interest creates a record in QPRIME, QPS's information management system, linking an insurance company to a crime incident property item. Notifications are then electronically sent by the QPS if the item of property is recovered or if the crime is solved.

Registering a subrogation right will create a record in QPRIME indicating that an insurance company has claimed legal ownership of a property item.

Notifications can provide (where a subrogation interest has been added) immediate online advice of any new information concerning recovery of property or the solving of a crime.

Access to Queensland property crime reports can be made available to insurance companies and loss assessors.
